Programming

FuMPFest Bids You Welcome

Ahoy, weary traveler! I see that you have ventured far in your quest to find the ultimate comedy-music experience. Well, I am happy to report that you have, indeed, arrived. While your quest has ended, your journey has just begun. For before you awaits a weekend filled with funny music, parties, and insanity, the likes of which haven't been seen for at least three months since MarsCon.

Come in! Welcome old friends. Greet new ones. Sample the home-brewed concoctions of the one known as Seamonkey. Pay homage to our Lord and Master, Dr. Demento. And, if you dare, see if your face can handle the sheer brutality of some of the karaoke tracks. For now begins the Epic Weekend of Awesomeness!

Caricatures BY LUKE SKI!

Being a professional caricature artist is the "day job" of FuMPFeST 2014 performing act 'the great Luke Ski!'

With his 18 years of experience, a BFA in Illustration, and a lifetime of cartooning, Luke Ski draws people at private parties and events all around the greater Chicagoland Tri-state area. Doing black & white, head & shoulder drawings, Luke draws an average of 20 people an hour. So if you'd like to hire him for your holiday parties, work events, birthdays, picnics, Bar/Bat Mitvahs, fairs, weddings, Wookiee life day celebrations or whatever, Luke Ski is eager to get booked for your event, so he can continue to avoid getting a real job! For examples of his work, booking, & contact information, visit:

The Panels of Discussion

Friday

Opening Ceremonies - Welcome to the con! Join us for a quick overview of what is to come, meet our guests, and get ready to party!

Dr. Demento's Festival of Dementia - Join Dr. Demento as he explores the history of comedy and novelty music through the ages as he plays some of the biggest hits from the 40 year history of his show.

Saturday

The Future of the FuMP - Members of the FuMP Core will be on hand to discuss plans as we continue our march through to total world domination!

Doctor of Dementia - A 1-hour Q&A with Dr. Demento!

Under the Smogberry Trees - There is a new documentary being produced about Dr. Demento and the filmmakers will be on hand to discuss the project, show some early footage, and answer your questions.

Logan Awards - The 4th annual Logan Whitehurst Memorial Awards for Excellence in Comedy Music will be taking place at FuMPFest. Awards are given out for Outstanding Original Comedy Song, Outstanding Parody Song, and Outstanding Comedy Music Video. Hosted by Dr. Demento.

Dementia Smackdown Wrestling - Ever wonder what would happen if your favorite comedy musicians went all out in the ring in a 20-man no-holds-barred battle royale? Now you can find out as Commissioner J.P. Tuesday and Duke "Flyboy" DuJour host. Watch virtual comedy musicians battle for the very real title belt.

Sunday

FuMP Showcase/Open Mic - Professional and amateur comedy-musicians who aren't otherwise performing at FuMPFest will take the stage to entertain the masses. Featuring performances by Bill Shipper, Buzz Brooks, Erin Sherlock, Jeff Reuben, Karl Brown, Soggy Potato Chips, Steve Kloss, and a special surprise guest!

Live Podcasts - Join Devo Spice, Luke Ski, Carrie Dahlby, Blasted Bill, Moonbeam, Kevin, and Kornflake for live recordings of their respective podcasts Manic Mondays, Luke and Carrie's Bad Rapport, the Pod of Destiny, and The Flopcast.

Closing Ceremonies - Sadly, the time has come to say goodbye. This was our first con. How did we do?

AUTOMATIC PILOT

Demented original jazz punk songs from the early 1980s San Francisco gay music scene

Active from 1980 to 1985, Automatic Pilot has been documented on the web since 2002, and on CD & digital distribution since 2005.

Studio recordings from "Back From The Dead" and "Live On Broadway" (recorded in San Francisco's On Broadway Theater) include audience favorites "Killer Purses" "Sit On My Face" & "Doughnut Shop Dream" and 14 more original compositions.

Featuring "Derelict In My Doorway" (played on Dr. Demento July 1, 1984 and on "1984" themed show June 11, 2011; charted #2 on Dementia Top 20 for 2007) and "Say Mongoose" (#8 on DT20 for 2007)

Automatic Pilot writer, keyboardist and backup singer Karl Brown is here at FuMPFest. He has contributed new solo works to The FuMP Sideshow since 2007, three of which he premiered at the MarsCon Dementia Fan Showcase, including his latest song "The Shittim Wood Tree" (played on Dr. Demento March 22, 2014; 4 appearances on DT20 including Biggest Mover at #7). He made his MarsCon Main Stage debut in the 2014 FuMP Jukebox and Dementia Smackdown.

Karl Brown will perform at FuMPFest 2014, in the Open Mic / FuMP Showcase on the Main Stage, Sunday 10:00 am. He is grateful to the entire dementia community for the opportunity to participate.

Guests of the Crown

Guest of Honor: Dr. Demento

Barret Hansen, better known to the world as Dr. Demento, is a legendary radio personality who has brought “mad music and crazy comedy” to the airwaves since 1970. The Dr. Demento Show features funny songs from yesterday, today, and tomorrow, going back to the beginning of audio recording by everyone who has ever recorded funny songs, including a young Alfred Yankovic who began sending him home-recorded songs in the late 1970s. The Dr. Demento Show can still be heard streaming online from DrDemento.com each and every week with an archive of hundreds of shows available as well.

Meep Morp Studios

Meep Morp Studio is an independent production company who are currently in the process of filming an official documentary about Dr. Demento. Devin, Joe, and Scott will be here filming, answering questions, and showing us some early footage of the documentary which features interviews with Weird Al, Stan Freberg, and many of the people performing this weekend.

The Guides for Parental Units

Content is clean and just fine for the young'uns.

Generally clean but may contain some adult topics, double entendres, or some mild profanity.

Expect some profanity here but not an excessive amount.

No holds barred. Lots of $#%^&! profanity!

Totally insane! Not suitable for anyone.

Carrie Dahlby - A long time participant in shadow-casts of the “Rocky Horror Picture Show”, “Shock Treatment”, and others, classically trained opera vocalist Carrie Dahlby made her first contributions to the world of comedy music on the albums of ‘the great Luke Ski’, most notably on his 2005 Dr. Demento Show hit “Vader Boy.” She began performing with Luke on a regular basis, often bringing the house down with her Olivia Newton John parody vocals in “Grease Wars” and went on to release her own albums “Happy Ranch” and “Giant Kitten.” She currently co-hosts a PodCast with Luke Ski, titled “Luke & Carrie’s Bad Rapport.”

Devo Spice - Devo Spice has been described as the “red-headed stepson of Weird Al Yankovic and Eminem.” His combination of humor and hip hop has made him one of the most requested artists on the Dr. Demento Show in recent years. Working under the group name Sudden Death he claimed the #1 slot of 2005 with “Inner Voice” and the #1 slot of 2007 with “Cellular Degeneration.” Devo Spice performs at conventions and clubs all across the country. His live show features videos and animations resulting in a hilarious show that goes over very well with a variety of audiences.

Garden Fresh - Garden Fresh began in 2010 when Chris Coon and Pete Johnson set out to create hip-hop alter egos who could espouse the polar opposite of the genre’s stereotypical content while still reveling in its music and machismo. Dubbing themselves Professor Fizizizt (read: physicist) and Tha Dome, Garden Fresh eschew praising money, intoxication and misogyny, instead penning clever odes to thrift, water and politeness to a fault. The result is a jovial all-ages performance full of catchy choruses and witty wordplay.

the great Luke Ski - At Dragon*Con 2004, Dr. Demento declared “the great Luke Ski” to be his radio program’s “Most Requested Artist of the 21st Century”. Since then, Luke held onto that title by having songs on The Dr. Demento Show’s annual year-end Funny 25 countdown of his most requested songs of the year for 11 years in a row. His song parodies, originals, stand-up and sketches about pop culture phenomena (doot doo, do-do-do!) have made him a favorite performer at science-fiction and fandom conventions all across the midwest and beyond.

Tony Goldmark - Tony Goldmark has been writing, performing and releasing comedy music since the age of 13. His first exposure on The Dr. Demento Show came in 1997 when the good doctor played his majestic 96-second ode to ichthyological paranoia, “I Know You’re A Fish.” Since then over two dozen of Tony’s songs and sketches have been heard on Dr. D, including the Funny 25 hits “Teeth Clenched,” “The Guy Who Doesn’t Know Things,” the Harry Potter viral hit “Sirius Black” and the Logan-nominated ode to the joys of cable news, “The Guy On TV Is Not Happy.”

Matt Griffo - Matt Griffo is a Chicago based musician & comedian – he plays original comedic songs on piano and ukulele while telling short stories in between. He’s taught at The Second City, Chicago and has been performing at festivals across the country since 2008, Griffo has opened for Reggie Watts and is the composer for the Chicago smash hit: Jersey Shore The Musical. He has songs about the environment, racism, love, and zombies. Up next he’ll be headlining the Arizona Sketch Comedy Festival, June 26-29.

Dan Hart - Dan Hart grew up in Los Angeles, where his life and music were forever changed by listening to Doctor Demento when it was a four-hour local radio show. Years later his lifelong dream was realized when his songs started being played by the good Doctor. Dan’s holiday songs (such as Christmas in the Nude, Santa is a Psycho, Lobotomy for Christmas, and Santa Eats Little Kids) are a regular feature on “Christmas in Dementia” every year. These songs can be found on Dan’s most recent CD Santa God and Other Blasphemies. This song collection is not for children. Dan will be bringing along special guest Barry Rabin for a few songs as well.

Insane Ian - Insane Ian is a comedian and writer from the Baltimore area who enjoys video games. A lot. He writes funny songs about video games. Makes parody videos about video games. And even writes reviews of video games for Destructoid. His latest project is to combine all that into one hot mess of music, videos, video games, and comedy which he calls Insane Ian’s Reviewsicals. Ian will be hosting FuMPFest for the weekend which means he won’t be shutting up any time soon.

Phil Johnson - Being human is a constant struggle between defining ourselves as individuals and trying to fit in with “the group.” Phil Johnson, who has appeared at the Sundance Film Festival and the Edinburgh Fringe Festival, uses comedy and music to dissect that dilemma. Roadside Attraction comes from his twin careers in music and comedy. “The idea here is songs and comedy material that are interesting and challenging, but also funny, and understandable by a casual listener.” It’s more eclectic than Stephen Lynch, funnier than Prince, and more palatable than Frank Zappa, though influences of all three abound.

Possible Oscar - Possible Oscar is a Minneapolis based comedy music act that specializes in nerdy music. Their musical topics range from video games to nerd love, with stops at comic books and notable Hollywood movie sound effects. Possible Oscar’s sound is two great tastes that taste great together; they usually play rock music with layers of guitar and keyboards, but sometimes a little hip hop is in order. The Dr. Demento Show has featured several Possible Oscar songs, including “Earn Hollywood Earn,” “Talk Nerdy to Me,” and “That Calls for a Wilhelm Scream.”

Power Salad - Power Salad is a comedy music group offering obscurely skewed and head-scratching funny views of life, wrapped up in different musical styles like wieners in blankets. Power Salad had the #1 song of 2008 on the nationally-syndicated Dr. Demento radio show with "Hold On, I've Got To Take This," as well as the #3 song of 2006 "My Cat is Afraid of the Vacuum Cleaner." The group evolved out of Akron, Ohio's radio comedy group Zot Theater in the late 1980's, and has released 5 CDs of funny music.

Raymond and Scum - When Matthew Dunn and Jeff Smith met in junior high, they made a pact: they would become a frickin' awesome comedy rock duo by the time the 21st century rolled around. And now, that 7th grade dream lives and breathes as Raymond & Scum. The team performs their catchy, off the wall songs at comedy clubs, colleges, and conventions all over the country and their YouTube videos have been viewed by tens of thousands. They have been featured regularly on the nationally syndicated Dr. Demento show and in 2007, became founding members of the FuMP.

Seamonkey - Eric Tomme, aka Seamonkey, made a name for himself in the Texas karaoke scene, which is hard to do without being outrageous and offensive. For that reason Seamonkey's show at FuMPFest will be taking place late at night. He is also the brainchild behind The Boobles, a Beatles parody band who writes songs about boobs and raises money for breast cancer charities. They are currently working on their second album and have raised over $3500 for charity thus far.

Tom Smith - Tom is NOT your ordinary comedy musician. With the lyrical complexity of Ashman and Sondheim, the vocal fireworks of Meat Loaf, the comedic timing of Robin Williams, and the dynamic physique of the Skipper from Gilligan's Island, the only thing he won't do is be boring. The only recording artist to be featured on both NPR's Sound and Spirit and Dr. Demento, and writer of the official chantey for Talk Like A Pirate Day, Tom has been praised by such diverse folk as singer-songwriter Christine Lavin, author Larry Niven, and web cartoonist Randy Milholland.

Worm Quartet - Worm Quartet is a one-man (Timothy F. Crist, A.K.A. --ShoEboX--) Comedy Synth Punk band portrayed on album covers as a group of four worms. Worm Quartet's music, all written by Crist, is characterized by wild logorrhea, taking words that might never have been in the same sentence before and forming odd images that flash past the listener's ears but remain imprinted on their engrams. His sophomoric sense of humor is occasionally tempered by outrage or satirical criticism. His hit "Great Idea for a Song" was the #1 song of 2004 on Dr. Demento.
